BRAC

- BRAC FINALLY OFFICIAL
  - The study required by BRAC Law was approved by DoD. It concludes that conventional weapons demilitarization at DCD is not operationally necessary, practical, or beneficial and will not be cost effective for the Army. Therefore, DCD will close upon completion of its chemical demilitarization mission, and the storage igloos and magazines will transfer to Tooele Army Depot in accordance with BRAC Recommendation #163.
  - Effective date 03 January 2008
